Dewitt MacKenzie Interprets Today's News From War Zones

With his arrival in Berlin, American Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles is making his first direct contact with one of the belligerents in his search for information which will assist President Roosevelt in gauging the prospects of bringing peace to Europe.

Welles' undoubted capabilities will be tested to the full, for in trying to fathom the mind of Adolf Hitler he is dealing with one of the world's most complex personalities. The Hitlerian individuality has taxed and overtaxed the analytical skill of such leaders of thought as Mussolini, Daladier and Chamberlain, and it is taking a great war to iron out the problem.

Still, since I have seen the nazi fuhrer in action at close range on numerous occasions, I feel sure that Welles will find his experience intensely interesting and illuminating. He may even find it profitable, if he is a good psychologist.

In any event, to my mind the presidential emissary is bound to carry away from Berlin at least one definite and vital impression, and he will get it again in Paris and London when he visits those capitals. It is this:

That the conflict between the Anglo-French allies and nazi Germany is fundamentally a struggle for politico-economic supremacy.

There are some who say the war is to outlaw aggression and make Europe a place fit for heroes to live in. That is true, but it is only a partial truth.

Many claim the struggle is for and against democracy, and that also is a chip of truth off the main block.

Others maintain that civilization is at stake, an assertion of such vagueness that to me it is "as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal". For civilization is where you pitch your tent—or anything else you want to call it.

Some assert the conflict is to secure for every nation its rightful and unmoored place in the sun—another little slice of truth.

Thus it goes, with both sides painting a picture of a crusading knight heading the procession in shining armor on a white charger. And when they are through I shall still insist that the war between Hitler and the allies is in its essence a scrap to determine who is the big political and economic boss of Europe and all territories contiguous thereto.

As Welles begins his visits among the belligerents, all of them are making a show of determination to continue the fight until they have achieved their aims. This was to be expected, of course, since a display of undue desire for peace would merely provide encouragement for the enemy. Also, since the undersecretary is agent for the main

ILLINOIS TRUCK ACT'S VALIDITY BEFORE COURTS

Injunction Against Its Enforcement Sought in Sangamon Co.

Springfield, Ill., March 1—(AP)—The Illinois truck act went into effect today and it faced an immediate court test.

A hearing scheduled for this morning on a petition for temporary injunction to restrain state officials from enforcing the act was postponed until afternoon by Circuit Judge Victor Hemphill.

The injunction petition was part of a suit attacking the validity of the act which requires financial responsibility of truckers, makes safety tests mandatory, and otherwise regulates trucking in the state.

The suit was filed late yesterday by Attorney Harold Halpenny in behalf of Lon E. Martin of Taylorville; Sidney J. Williams of the Ready Trucking Company, Chicago; Harry Miller, Taylorville, and the Certificated Motor Carriers, Chicago.

Halpenny said it had been physically impossible for truckers to meet requirements of the truck act before today because safety testing stations were established only recently and application forms have not been readily available.

The attorney said the injunction (Continued on Page 6)

Raymond Wilson, 34, of Taylor Springs, Ill., Illinois Central telegraph operator who has been working at the Amboy station for a few days as relief operator, was held under bond of $1,000 by Judge Grover Gehant in County court today on an information charging him with assault with a deadly weapon upon Henry Walters of Amboy. The assault was reported to have been committed Wednesday night in the Joseph Metzner saloon in Amboy, where Wilson was arrested by Officer James Donnelly of the Amboy police force.

According to the report, made at the sheriff's office, Walters and Wilson were drinking when the telegraph operator suddenly whipped out a knife and slashed at Walters, who sustained a flesh wound on the cheek. Wilson was then said to have threatened Walters and the latter summoned Officer Donnelly, who arrested the operator. Deputy LeRoy Bates was summoned to Amboy and brought Wilson to the county jail.

Following his arraignment in court today, Wilson requested a continuance to permit him to consult an attorney and Judge Gehant continued the case until March 14. In default of bond, Wilson was returned to the county jail.

Family Affair

Washington, March 1—(AP)—The Indianapolis law firm of Faust, Faust & Faust was admitted in a body today to practice before the Supreme court.

The firm members are William H. Faust, Sr., his wife, Mrs. Irene Hermann Faust, and their son, William, Jr.

Court officials said it was the first time in history that father, mother and son had been admitted together to practice before the high tribunal.

The elder Faust was graduated from the Indiana law school in 1909, his wife in 1930, and their son from the law school of Indiana University in 1936.

Hundreds of Cowed Aurora Bachelors Throng City Jail Awaiting Hearings

Aurora, Ill., March 1—(AP)—City officials swept the hairpins out of their offices today and sighed with relief because Leap Year comes only quadrennially.

The ladies of Aurora, by right of the Leap Year tradition, yesterday took over the local government for the day and cracked down on the city's bachelors.

As mayor of the powder-puff administration, Miss Audrey Kesel, 19, sent the petticoat cops out to round up all of the town's single men.

"No girl hereabouts has to take 'no' for an answer from any man today," was her tyrannical edict.

Hundreds of cowed males thronged the jail while awaiting trial before biased, yet beautiful, Police Magistrate Mary White. They were fined candy, stockings, flowers and lingerie for committing the capital crime of bachelorhood.

Mayor Kesel, back at her old job of teaching dancing today, boasted that marriage license statistics would reflect the success of her administration.

LOCAL OBSERVANCE

Aurora may have her female officers on Leap Year... college students may have their "Sadie Hawkins Day" in which the girls chase their eligible bachelors... Joliet may have their reams of publicity about how their fair females reign every four years on the extra day... these are well known, but Dixon's single girls, while not so widely publicized in their man-chasing actions every four years on February 29th, are not to be counted out for last evening many dates were made, called for, theatre-partied, dined and completely financed by many of this city's more determined fairer sex.

Typical of such engagements was the group consisting of Jeanette Peterson, Betty Keller, Floyd Smith, Jr., and John Nelson of Sterling. The boys were treated with a woman's conception of gentlemanly deference all through last night's date, although at times their desire for revenge got the best of them. About this, said young Smith, "Golly, those girls showed us all around, ordered us about just as if they were equal to we males! I for one will arrange my dates in the regular fashion hereafter." Spouted Nelson "This leap year stuff is great... I love it!"

Springfield, Ill., March 1—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. John Stelle today disputed the right of Governor Horner, who is ill, to send a representative to sit on the state certifying board tomorrow when it meets to decide if President Roosevelt's name shall go on the Democratic preferential primary ballot in Illinois.

Stelle said he would be present personally "to protest against anybody on that board being represented by proxy" after Arthur O'Brien, the governor's secretary, said Horner would be represented at the meeting by his executive assistant, Alexander Wilson.

The challenge of the lieutenant governor, who is running for the governorship nomination against the Horner-Kelly-Nash ticket, recalled Stelle's statement last week-end in which he said friends had urged him to invoke the state constitution's "disability clause" and take over Horner's duties during "this long period of the governor's disability".

Asked if he had any intention of assuming the role of Acting Governor because of Horner's illness, Stelle told a press conference:

"Tomorrow morning is 24 hours off. Time cures a lot of things".

Stelle declined to comment when asked his position of Roosevelt's candidacy.

Principal business before the certifying board tomorrow is the protest of State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake County against placing of Roosevelt's name on the primary ballot because the customary signed statement of candidacy did not accompany the nominating petitions.

Court Action Possible

Possibility of court action if Roosevelt's name goes on the ballot was strengthened when it was learned the certifying board may not attempt to decide legal objections to filing the President's nominating petitions.

State's Attorney Mason inspected the petitions late yesterday and

WELLES TO TALK WITH HITLER IN BERLIN SATURDAY

Special American Envoy Learns Something of Nazi Contentions

Berlin, March 1—(AP)—Germany is not prepared even to discuss peace until and unless Britain's "stranglehold on the economic life of the world" is broken—this in effect is understood to have been the central thesis of the first talk today between President Roosevelt's fact-finding emissary and Adolf Hitler's foreign minister.

Moreover, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop is understood to have told Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles that until Britain's dominance is ended Germany is not ready to entertain Secretary Hull's ideas concerning elimination of autarchy, regimentation and totalitarianism from the post-war economic world.

Sources in von Ribbentrop's confidence developed this idea so strongly to this correspondent that there can be little doubt that Ribbentrop himself gave this line of talk to Welles, with whom he was closeted soon after the American's arrival this morning.

The talk began at noon and lasted until 2:30 P. M. (7:30 A. M. C.S.T.) after which Welles was escorted back to his hotel in a German foreign office car by one of von Ribbentrop's adjutants. Then Welles and the United States charge d'affaires, Alexander Kirk, immediately went to the American delegation's suite.

Later Welles announced that his interview with Chancellor Hitler had been set for 11 A. M. tomorrow (4 A. M. C.S.T.).

Non-Committal

'Amazing, Dubious' London, March 1—(AP)—A document purporting to embody German peace terms was published today by the British press, which prescribed it as "amazing" and "dubious".

The Daily Herald said officials were unable to regard it as a genuine peace offer from Germany. It said the document was sponsored by the "Agreement by Germany to an independent 'reconstructed' Poland; freedom for reconstructed Czech and Slovak states; general disarmament; membership in a reformed League of Nations; return of all or some of Germany's former colonies or some other method of providing Germany with adequate raw materials."

But said "it was very interesting and I was shown every courtesy by the German government".

Welles, arriving from Rome, where he already had conferred with Premier Mussolini on his fact-finding mission for Roosevelt, was greeted in the German capital this morning with the shrieks of air-raid sirens. It was a regular alarm rehearsal.

It was understood that the main purpose of Welles' talk with von Ribbentrop was to prepare the ground for the American's meeting with Hitler probably tomorrow.

In developing the thesis that Britain was a stranglehold on the world, von Ribbentrop was believed to have told Welles that British censorship of American Clipper mail at Bermuda was a mere pinprick for the United States compared with what all Europe as well as Asia feels all the time.

Gibraltar and Suez

So long as England holds Gibraltar and the Suez canal, for example—so von Ribbentrop is supposed to have argued—there is no security for the rest of the world. According to the German view England uses economic

Victory in Ohio Called Forecast of Swing to GOP

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Republicans call the Seventeenth Ohio district, which they just took over from the Democrats, a typical congressional district. That is the basis on which they call the victory a fair harbinger of what will happen in November.

They predicate their description of the district on its history and the fact that its population is about evenly divided between farm and urban residents.

On the historical side, the district was Republican at the turn of the century. It slipped into the Democratic column in 1908 a little in advance of the inrush of Wilsonian Democrats. William A. Ashbrook then was elected by a plurality of 485 votes. He held it straight through the Wilson administration by pluralities that ranged up to 19,000 in 1914.

The district was recaptured by the Republicans in the Harding landslide of 1920 and they held it throughout the twenties. In 1930, Charles West won by 2,000 votes in the Democratic swing which forecast the Roosevelt victory of 1932. The seat has been held by Democrats throughout the thirties, Ashbrook having served as a successor to West until his death this winter. The Republicans captured it in the special election Tuesday to fill the vacancy.

Much more significance is attached to their winning this seat than to their holding the 22nd Ohio district, or to the election next Tuesday in the Sixth Iowa district. The Democrats have won a congressional election in the Sixth Iowa only once in the past 25 years. That was in 1934 at the crest of the new deal.

Steward Youth Fined $100, Driver's Permit Revoked for 6 Months

Wayne Stevens, 19, of Alto township, appeared before Judge Grover Gehant today and was sentenced on an information charging him with the operation of a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition. The hearing had been continued several times. Judge Gehant ordered that Stevens' driver's license be revoked for a period of six months, during which time he is not to operate any motor vehicle.

In addition the court ordered that Stevens pay a fine of $100 and the costs of the suit, and remanded him to the county jail to stand committed until the fine and costs are paid. Judge Gehant further recommended that Stevens pay the fine and costs personally and not his parents. The court announced that at the completion of sentence, consideration would be given to the original larceny count on which Stevens was paroled several months ago, in which he was charged with the theft of chickens.

Federal Judge Cites Georgia Governor and His Aide for Contempt

Macon, Ga., March 1—(AP)—Judge Bascom S. Deaver today cited Governor E. D. Rivers and Adjutant General John Stoddard for civil contempt of the United States District court here in their defiance of orders against interference with W. L. Miller as Georgia highway chairman.

Judge Deaver issued an order for the two state officials to show cause at a hearing March 8 at Columbus, Ga., why they should not be held in contempt.

Twice this week the deposed official sought vainly to enter the state road building in Atlanta. National Guard Sergeant J. D. Garrett denied admission both times, explaining he was acting under orders of Governor Rivers, who declared martial law over the highway department December 18 after Miller obtained a state court injunction against interference.

The governor has made it plain he did not intend to "recognize" federal jurisdiction in the matter. The penalty in civil contempt cases may be a fine or jail sentence, at discretion of the judge.

Women Rebel

Chicago, March 1—(AP)—Supervisors, office workers and executives will be exempt from the state eight-hour law for women if changes proposed by the Alliance of Business & Professional Women of Chicago are written on the statute books.

The alliance, a spokesman said yesterday, plans to perfect a state-wide organization of women to work for the proposed changes at a meeting to be held some time within the next six weeks.

Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, president of the alliance, said that opportunities for women to land jobs as office workers, supervisors, and executives were growing fewer every day because of the law.

"Employers naturally hire men in preference to women who are forbidden under the law to work more than eight hours in any given day," she said.

'Inquisition' of Census Attacked Before Committee

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Senator Davis (R-Pa.) said today that census inquiries were approaching a point "where the housewife will have to account for her pots and pans and a man will have to take inventory of his fishing tackle".

Davis testified before a senate commerce sub-committee in support of a resolution by Senator Tobey (R-NH) calling for elimination from this year's census of questions regarding personal income.

"The right of privacy in a man's home is one that must not be taken away," Davis declared.

Another witness, Senator Austin (R-Vt.), declared that "in view of the present conditions in the world and in our country it is very important that we satisfy our people we are not on the road to tyranny and that we do not want to take away their rights of privacy".

"Another Boston Tea Party"

Referring to letters of protest against the questions, Rep. Plumley (R-Vt.) testified that "This state of mind is common and very generally distributed".

"My correspondence shows that moral indignation with which these questions will be greeted," he added.

One letter Plumley read termed the questions "an insult to the intelligence and a threat to the liberty of the American people".

Another writer asserted "no alien-inspired gang is going to invade my home and my personal privacy—keep up the good work and perhaps some of the nit-wits and rabbit-hearted ones will rally to your side".

Still another termed the census "an inquisition".

The writers of the letters were not identified.

Tobey said prospects were increasing "to the extent of another Boston Tea Party".

Illinois Women Return From Adventure in Brazil

Boston, March 1—(AP)—Three young Illinois women whose aerial vacation ended when their plane came down out of gas on an isolated farm on the Brazilian coast arrived today aboard the steamer Mormacgull, still enthusiastic over their adventures.

The trio are Mrs. Don Wallace, 32, and Miss Vrieda Zylstra, 25, both of Chicago, and Miss June Sprau, 25, of Lake Forest. Their pilot and owner of the plane, James Allen of Chicago, remained at Rio De Janeiro to sell the aircraft. Their other companion, Edward Bowers of Chicago, returned by another ship.

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, announced today the Export-Import bank had allocated $20,000,000 for an additional loan to Finland, had made a $15,000,000 loan to Sweden, and also had made a $10,000,000 loan to Norway, which previously had been announced tentatively.

BULLETIN

Helsinki, March 1—(AP)—Russia's Red army closed in on shell-battered, deserted Viipuri from three sides today, looking the city tighter in a pincer-like land grip while swarms of warplanes supported it with the greatest aerial offensive in days.

The Finnish command's own communique showed the Russians moving in from the southwest over the islands and ice of Viipuri Bay and from the south and east along three railway lines, forcing the Finns to make their stands ever closer to the city.

The Russians and Finns, according to today's high command communique, fought "fierce air battles" in which the defenders shot down 14 Russian planes and lost four themselves.

The Finns said the Russians sent "several hundred" planes over the home area in extensive bombing raids in which 14 civilians were killed and 16 wounded.

The Russian land drive against the Mannerheim line extended all the way to Taipale, at the eastern extremity. At some points the Russians dropped "a few parachute patrols" which were "all destroyed", the communique said.

Motorist Hides Body of Girl He Struck in Garage

Chicago, March 1—(AP)—"I was excited and I didn't know what to do. But I was sure she was dead so I took her body to the garage."

That was the explanation an automobile driver gave the police for not taking a five-year-old girl to a hospital after she had been injured fatally yesterday by his car.

The body of the child, Beverly Joan Frank, was found under two heavy tarpaulins in the corner of a private garage owned by Walter Bradshaw, 45, a meat market proprietor.

Dr. John Cunningham, summoned from a nearby hospital, examined the body and opined the child had been alive for two hours after the accident. However, Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's physician, said the girl might have been dead before being placed under the tarpaulins.

Bradshaw, who has a son 18 years old, was arrested while washing his car at the rear of his shop. He had been traced through his automobile license number, given to police by a witness to the accident.

The child victim was the daughter of Jacob Frank, a tool and die worker, and his wife, Anna. They have two other children.

CUE STAR HERE

Marcel Camp, versatile cue star, will appear here in an exhibition at the John Vaile billiard parlors tonight at 7:45. Camp vanquished in rapid succession Ralph Greenleaf and Frank Taborski during the 1929 world's championship pocket billiard tournament in Detroit. Camp is one of the most versatile cueists in the game, excellent in specialized branches of pocket billiards, such as bank shots, rotation and pocket-apiece. He is the fifth ranking player of the world at pocket billiards, finishing in that position in the recent world's tournament. Camp will meet Arthur Eastman in a special match here tonight. The exhibition is free.

WILDLIFE EXHIBIT

Twenty-five cages of wildlife are now on exhibit at the sportsman's show at 85 Galena avenue where bob cats, white albino raccoons, wolverines, prairie dogs and badgers may be seen. The exhibit is open daily from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. except Sunday, 1 p. m. to 9 p. m.

VISITORS TREAT

Captain George Schultz and his Franklin Grove cribbage team consisting of John Vogt, Douglas Stultz and Charles Kelley, reported at the fire department headquarters last evening at 6 o'clock, bringing a fully prepared delicious baked ham supper with all of the accessories. It was the visitors' treat and they proved themselves true epicures. The fire department cribbage crew of which Captain Dave Kelly is the spokesman, enjoyed the evening's festivities to the fullest extent and after the feast had been cleared away, the two teams began play. The city hall crew emerged the victors of the evening with the count standing 17 to 15 at the close of play.

TO WALNUT

The Dixon Soda Grill cagers will play at Walnut next Tuesday night with an independent team of that community.

DUCATS ARE GONE

It is now useless to send orders for the state high school basketball tournament because all tickets which are available to the general public are sold. C. E. Bowen, business manager of Illinois athletics, announced. The number of orders received by Feb. 23, the deadline, exceeded the 3,300 tickets assigned to the public by approximately 1,000. These 3,300 tickets will be assigned by lot, with all orders on hand Feb. 23 having an equal chance. The surplus of 1,000 orders which are unlucky in the draw will be returned to the applicants, along with all orders received since that date.

SCORING TWINS

Clarence Kelly and Bill Witzleb, Dixon's scoring twins are keeping together in their totals for the year. During the scheduled season each basketball counted 142 points and last night in the first regional game each scored 17 tallies. In the North Central conference records Witzleb led Kelly by a one-point margin. The grand total for each is now 159.

TOURNAMENT SIDELIGHTS

During the last quarter of the Franklin Grove-Propphetstown game the battle was halted a minute while the captains of each team inquired of the officials, "Who's leading?" That blast of enthusiasm from the Franklin Grove cheering section just before the games started was for the appearance of Warren and Ossie Zimmerman. The brothers had been helping their family move yesterday and were late in reporting for action. The tardiness had the Grovers' coach and fans bogged down in desperation.

KNACKS PLAYER IS HONORED

Roland Ulrich of Lee Center who has played with the Dixon Knacks in all of their out-of-town games has been honored with a small silver basketball award as a member of the second all-star team at the recent Mt. Morris independent's tournament. The selection of all-star teams was made by Manager William Wohlshlegel and the two officials. Ulrich has played center on the Dixon team and been among the high scorers.

STERLING STATISTICS

Dick Smith, sports editor of the Sterling high school paper, "The Script," has compiled the following statistics on the team's season and it will be interesting to you in light of the Brandman's participation in the current regional tournament here where they are likely candidates for tomorrow night's finals:

WHITE SOX TO CONTINUE TO PLAY FOR COMISKEYS

Chicago, March 1—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox will be playing baseball for the Comiskey family this summer just as they have since the birth of the American League.

The First National Bank, executor of the estate of J. Louis Comiskey, tried unsuccessfully yesterday to get court approval for a proposed sale of the property.

Hence, the bank will continue to operate the club for Mrs. Grace Comiskey and her three children, all of whom opposed the contemplated sale.

The bank sought permission to call for bids on the White Sox on the grounds that ownership of a baseball club is a "hazardous" business from an investment standpoint.

ARMSTRONG WILL MEET GARCIA IN CALIFORNIA RING

Ten-Round Bout to Begin About Midnight (CST) In Hollywood

Los Angeles, March 1—(AP)—Seeking to advance still another rung up pugilism's ladder of fame, welterweight champion Henry Armstrong climbs into the ring tonight and faces Ceterino Garcia, claimant of the world's middleweight crown and one of the deadliest punchers in the business.

The fighters, clashing for the second time—the first time before their home town admirers—weigh in shortly before noon. The bout, slated for 10 rounds with Garcia's New York-California recognized 160-pound title at stake, is to begin around 12 midnight (CST).

Promoter Charlie MacDonald, matchmaker for Hollywood's American Legion stadium, predicted a crowd of 35,000 would jam Gilmore stadium if the weather remains clear as expected, and gate receipts would flirt with the $100,000 mark.

ACCLAIMED AS RING MARVEL

The bull-shouldered Armstrong, already acclaimed as the ring marvel of the age and the only man ever to hold three world's championships simultaneously, faced a momentous task in his attempt to wrest Garcia's share of the middleweight title.

The feared 32-year-old bologn-puncher from the Philippines rates as one of the few men who ever hurt Armstrong with a punch.

Garcia did it in their New York encounter in 1935, but couldn't follow it up and lost a hard fought decision in 15 rounds at the welterweight limit.

Last October Garcia knocked out Freddie Apostoli and won the middleweight crown as sanctioned by the New York and California boxing commissions. Al Hostak of Seattle is the N. B. A. champ.

Boxing experts think the match will turn out to be a grueling duel between the short-range, ever-punching style of Armstrong, and the long distance shots of Garcia.

Upsets Appear as Regionals Hit Semi-Finals

Chicago, March 1—(AP)—Upsets began to cut into the ranks of Illinois prep basketball title contenders last night as regional tournament play reached the semi-final round in most centers.

At Chicago Heights, Thornton of Harvey, a former state champion, was eliminated after a daz-zling finish by Bloom, the host team. Bloom won, 39 to 35, scoring 14 points in the last four minutes after Ray Vincent, Thornton guard, went out on personals.

Mt. Carmel fell before Belmont, 38 to 36, at Kewanee. Wethersfield bowed to Galva, 36 to 30, after having gone through the season with the loss of only two games.

Other prized records were kept intact. Homer gained its 27th triumph in 29 starts and its 17th in a row by defeating Westville, 39 to 31. Dundee trounced Barrington, 65 to 24, for its 20th victory in 21 starts. Crystal Lake notched its 19th win in 21 starts. Bradley won its 29th game in 31 starts, and O'Fallon gained its 20th decision in 22 starts.

Rockford, last year's title holder, began play with a routing 55 to 20 triumph over Marengo. Macomb and Riverside won overtime triumphs last night. Canton rang up the top score, a 69-24 victory over Glasford.

Dixon and Prophetstown Win Last Eve; Dukes' Subs Outscored by Amboy Team

GAMES LAST NIGHT
Dixon 41; Amboy 17.
Propphetstown 38; Franklin Grove 26.
GAMES TONIGHT
Sterling vs. Rock Falls (7:30).
Dixon vs. Prophetstown (8:30).

As the Dixon regional tournament continues on its way and prepares for the semi-finals tonight, tragedy and hope move hand in hand. Last night in the opening game the Amboy team coached by William Welty was eliminated by the 41 to 17 victory of the Dixon Dukes and Franklin Grove was defeated, 38 to 26, by Prophetstown.

In the first game tonight the Sterling team will play an intracity match with their Rock Falls neighbors and Dixon must engage the Prophets in the nightcap.

After assuring a victory for the Dukes in the first half, Coach L. E. Sharpe let loose with his substitutes last night and the Amboy boys had their "innings" by outscoring Dixon 15 to 5 in the last half. It was a sportsman-like gesture on the part of the local men after the five iron men had run up a score of 36 to 2 at the half.

The change in lineup also gave the reserves of Dixon a chance to perform together and their work did not equal that of the foe. The Dukes were jittery under the Amboy attack and a bucket each by Shoaf and Shank and a free throw by the latter were all the locals could snag.

Amboy's first score came after three and one-half minutes of the second quarter when Miller dropped in a free throw. He later added another for the visitors only first half scoring.

Held Scoreless in First Period
Dixon's royal flush scored 24 points in the first canto while holding the Welty-men scoreless and then added 12 more in the second frame.

Scoring honors were divided between Clarence Kelly and Bill Witzleb, each of whom counted 17 points on seven field goals and three free throws apiece. Leading the Amboy offensive in the last half were Price and Miller, each with six tallies.

The Dixon substitutes missed many set up shots and although they possessed the ball enough to command the scoring, they were cold at the rim.

The much-shooting Dukes attempted 108 field goals and made 16 for a percentage of .146 while Amboy shot 37 times and made six for a percentage of .162.

FIRST GOOD GAME
To Prophetstown and Franklin Grove go the honors for contributing the first exciting and well-played game of the tournament. Coach John Mitchell, former Dixon athlete, led his charges into his old camp and they performed with credit to him and the school although they bowed in a 38 to 26 defeat to the rangy Prophets.

The winners' long shots, coupled with the Grovers' failure at the gift line did much to dampen the enthusiasm of the large group of loyal Franklin Grove fans. The Lee county school team seemed unable to defend itself against the long shots of the Prophets and they were sensational to watch.

Much Sound and Fury
During the first quarter there was much sound and fury with both teams racing up and down the floor to wear out themselves and Officials Gerhardt and Harrison, but the only markers were the buckets by Warren Zimmerman and his brother, Ossie, who each tossed in one to give their mates a 4 to 2 command as the period ended. Zinsler scored for the rivals.

Twelfth Installment of Ogle-Bureau County Historical Review

Ordinance for Oregon Library, Passed in 1872

Sixty-eight years ago this month, the general assembly of the state of Illinois approved a bill authorizing cities, incorporated towns and townships to establish and maintain free public libraries and reading rooms. On Dec. 30, 1872, members of the City Council of Oregon passed an ordinance for establishment of a public library and reading room for their city.

Mayor G. W. Phelps and City Clerk John Rutledge signed the ordinance. A tax of one mill on the dollar for the year 1872 was levied on all taxable property in the city, in addition to the assessed value for the purpose of establishing and maintaining the library—a tax which became known as the library fund.

At the Dec. 30 meeting of the City Council, the mayor appointed nine directors, to serve for terms ranging from one to three years as follows: J. C. T. Phelps, G. W. Hornell and A. Woodcock, one year; J. E. Hitt, J. Matmiller and J. Rutledge, two years; W. W. Bennett, M. L. Ettinger and E. L. Wells, three years. Albert Woodcock was elected president, and E. L. Wells, secretary. It was agreed that five of the directors constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

Select Books

In January of the following year, President Woodcock and Mr. Bennett were appointed to make a selection of books for the new project. At a later meeting, Mr. Hornell reported that Henry Burchell would keep the books at a cost of $10 to the library, and that Mr. Woodburn would keep the library if a case were furnished.

In March, 1874, County Treasurer John T. Gantz was appointed librarian and the library was located in his office. According to records, Captain J. H. Cartwright, (the late James H. Cartwright, justice of the supreme court), who was beginning a law practice in Oregon and who had been elected mayor at a salary of $25 per year, donated $25 to the library fund.

With the expiration of Mr. Gantz's term as county treasurer in 1875, it became necessary to arrange new quarters for the library. A room was leased in the J. B. Mix block on Washington street for $30 per year, and a committee was appointed to purchase 12 chairs, three tables and three lamps.

New Quarters

The directors met in the new quarters on Dec. 9, 1875, and on the motion of E. P. Piersol, decided to open the library on Dec. 13. Provision was made to appoint substitute librarians, and the following volunteered: G. W. Hornell, E. L. Wells, Albert Woodcock, Mr. Piersol, John Rutledge, Mr. Bennett, E. Brown, B. F. Sheets, J. T. Gantz, and M. W. Smith.

In June, 1876, Miss Agnes McMullen, Josephine Waite, and Jennie Page were asked to serve as directors to fill vacancies. In December of the same year, the rent was raised to $48.

On June 13, 1877, S. B. Wadsworth was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Director J. R. Leslie, deceased, and M. A. Larson was appointed for a term of three years to succeed S. B. Hyman, whose term had expired. C. D. Etnyre was elected secretary on Oct. 2, 1884, and has served continuously since then. Electric lights were installed in 1896 to replace the oil lamps.

On Sept. 7, 1900, the board approved a motion by Attorney J. C. Seyster to employ a librarian at a salary not to exceed $100 per week. Mrs. Addie Welty was the first librarian to receive compensation for her services, and was succeeded by Mrs. Ethel Herbert Haas. Miss Emily Cartwright, the present librarian, became Mrs. Haas' successor in 1906.

Pictured above is one of ten wild life shelters and feeding stations built in Ogle county by the Oregon CCC camp, in order that shelter and food may be provided for wild birds and animals during the period of deep snow and freezing weather. Only by supplying emergency rations can bird and animal life be kept from suffering and death when heavy snows cover up natural feeding grounds and shelters.

Wild Deer Are Protected in Ogle County

This picture, taken by County Surveyor J. H. Sabin, shows part of Ogle county's herd of wild deer. During the past few weeks, when deep snow and ice covered natural feeding grounds for wild creatures of the woods, various agencies attempted to furnish provender for game birds and small animals, and numerous shelters were constructed. Part of the deer herd has been fed by Mr. Sabin at his farm north of Byron, near Mosquito Creek. The deer are most frequently seen in sections near Oregon and Byron, and last fall, a number of the animals met death when struck by automobiles at crossings leading to the river along State Highway No. 2.

Walnut Post of A. L. Has Served for Twenty Years

Born in 1919 out of a desire to join in a national movement for the organization of posts of American Legionnaires, American Legion post, No. 178, of Walnut today has to its credit more than 20 years of activity, with a diversified list of accomplishments.

An organization meeting was held on Sept. 12, 1919. Before the end of the month, on Sept. 12, a provisional charter was granted.

Plans for the new building were drawn by Pond and Pond, Chicago architects, and members of the artists' summer colony at Eagle's Nest Bluff, M. D. Smith of Dixon, received the contract, and the building was completed in December, 1908, at a cost of $13,000, exclusive of the site and books. The site was obtained for an additional $1,980.

Provide Art Gallery

The library is constructed of white brick, in Elizabethan and Gothic architecture, and at the suggestion of the artist colony, part of the structure was built two stories high to provide an art room. Contributions for the additional expense were made, as follows: Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Lowden, $1,000; Wallace Heckman, $100, and a bequest of $500 provided in the will of Malvina F. Potvin, descendant of an early pioneer family.

The first books were issued from the new library on Dec. 12, 1908. A new card system was introduced on May 15, 1909. Approximately 16,000 volumes are now available to patrons, who are given privilege of the rooms from 2 to 6 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. daily, except Fridays.

Art Exhibit

The art room was first used in October, 1908, when paintings by Leon A. Makieski of Chicago were exhibited. The show, which was open to the public each afternoon for a week, included 100 scenes along and near the Rock river. The exhibit was concluded with a reception in the library reading room, complimenting the artist, with members of the Oregon Woman's club acting as hostesses.

The art gallery was formally opened on July 4, 1918, with the placing of 12 pieces of statuary and the hanging of 20 oil landscapes, three oil portraits, and one water color portrait.

Flagg Township Library Boasts 9,000 Volumes

With an increase of more than 7,000 volumes since 1900, the Flagg Township Public Library at Rochelle now has a collection of more than 9,000 books, magazines, pamphlets and pictures offered for use of its lengthening list of patrons.

Half a century ago, residents of Rochelle felt the need of an agency for providing reading material. At the township election in the spring of 1889, a tax of one mill was voted for the purpose of establishing a public library.

First President

During the following year, the first board of directors met and organized, electing M. J. Braiden president and A. J. Bird, secretary. Other members included Aaron Cass, John Prindle, Henry Loomis, and Edward McGinnis.

In spite of some opposition, the board members began the task of collecting and purchasing books and providing a room for them. Through the cooperation of the city council, a room was furnished in the Town Hall, and by 1892, the library was functioning. The room was open each Saturday, with Mr. Loomis, a member of the board, acting as custodian. The following year, Mrs. Loomis assumed the librarianship, continuing in that position until her retirement in 1900.

Compiles Report

It was at that time that the following report was made of the number of books in the collection:

Physical science and art....	115
History and biography....	337
Travel.....	38
Fiction.....	916
Poetry.....	71
Religion.....	48
General literature and essay	171
Reference books.....	40
Juvenile books.....	692

Miss Frances Simons succeeded Mrs. Loomis as librarian. The reading room was then opened on Saturday and Tuesday evenings.

New Quarters

Within the next ten years, the need for a larger library became so acute that the board members began investigation of obtaining new quarters. Their efforts were climaxed with the gift of a Carnegie grant and erection of the present building, which was completed in 1912. Those composing the board at that time were M. L. Pickle, A. B. Sheadle, John Prindle, W. J. Furlong, O. R. Randall and Fred Craft. J. W. King, J. E. Thorp, C. F. Philbrook, M. J. Leonard, A. W. Guest and William Williams are also past board members.

Instead of its earlier schedule, the institution later extended its hours of service to five hours per day except Sundays and holidays. Miss Simons was succeeded by her sister, Miss Minnie Simons, who continued as librarian until 1934, when a professional librarian, Miss Elizabeth Windsor, was appointed, and Miss Simons was retained as her assistant. When Miss Windsor resigned in August, 1937, Miss Leona Ringering, the present librarian, was given the appointment.

Present Board

Present board members are Mrs. W. E. Kittler, Vincent Carey, Mrs. A. T. Guest, Mrs. E. L. Valiole, Fred Bushnell, and Mrs. Earl Wright. Library trustees, whose services are without remuneration, other than the satisfaction of serving their community, are chosen at the regular township election and serve for six years. Terms of two members expire in alternate years.

During the past few years, the book collection has been thoroughly reorganized and recatalogued. The reading room is open daily from 2 until 9 p. m., and a growing interest in the work of the library and its place in the cultural life of the community is shown by the continual increase in circulation figures.

Odd Fellowship Has Existed in Oregon Since '51

Odd Fellowship has been in existence in Oregon for more than 88 years, the first lodge having been organized Oct. 17, 1851. Thomas Wildey, a native of England, was the founder.

During the Civil war, the lodge lost its charter, which was restored after reorganization in 1877. Two buildings have been owned by the lodge. After sale of the first building in 1910, meetings were held above Seibert's Grocery for the next ten years.

The present quarters, purchased in 1920, includes a large lodge room, ante-rooms and lockers. The store room below is occupied by the Murdock Grocery company.

Charles D. Etnyre, who observed his eighty-second birthday anniversary last October, is the oldest living member of the lodge, having been initiated on June 16, 1882. Mr. Etnyre, who has been associated with the Ogle County abstract office for more than 50 years, was born in Oregon on Oct. 3, 1857, and still resides at the old Etnyre homestead.

Present officers are: Noble grand, Charles Reed; vice grand, C. K. Kinn; recording secretary, Charles Fouch; financial secretary, Howard Todd; treasurer, Harry Harnish; deputy, Clarence Jamsden; trustees, James M. White, C. V. Mattison, Lester N. Myers, Abe Friemuth, and Russell Brunner.

Barrett Pledges End to Chicago Ballot Scandals

Danville, Ill., March 1—(AP)—"You people in downstate Illinois have been electing Republicans for several years, but the Chicago vote thieves have been keeping them out of office", George F. Barrett, Republican candidate for Attorney General, declared Thursday night before an audience in Danville.

"Vote frauds in Cook county, where almost every election in recent years has been stolen, affect the entire state", said Barrett, who is a member of the special committee investigating such frauds in the 1938 and 1939 Cook county elections.

"Virtually every ballot box which has been opened during the investigation demonstrates that vote thieves have been at work. Every one of the dishonest votes tabulated in Cook county served to nullify one honest one cast downstate.

"One of the most important steps which Illinois voters must take this year is to elect a Republican Attorney General who is thoroughly familiar with the Cook county situation and who can and will end vote frauds there."

Barrett, who is known as one of Illinois' outstanding experts on election laws, urged that every downstate and Chicago voter make a study of the quarter million pamphlets which he issued last week and in which he sets forth his recommendations for stopping vote thefts. He pledged that if elected he will end Cook county election frauds "and thus assure downstate voters that the candidates for whom a majority of the people cast their votes will not be robbed by a minority of their right to office."

President May Plead Again for Money for New Locks for Canal

Washington, March 1—(AP)—Congressional opposition to a new set of bomb-proof locks for the Panama Canal, an administration leader said today, may bring a special presidential appeal for funds.

President Roosevelt's budget asked $15,000,000 to begin work on the locks, but the item was deleted from a war department bill by the House appropriations committee.

The House backed up its committee yesterday by voting only $850,000 to prepare plans for the locks. It did not even debate the larger sum.

A usually well-informed source told reporters on Capitol Hill there was a good chance that the Chief Executive, who visited the canal this week, would send a letter or other message to the Senate urging restoration of the $15,000,000 fund.

Without such an appeal, one administration lieutenant said, there appeared little possibility that the expenditure would be approved.

Chairman Thomas (D-Okla.) of the Senate appropriations subcommittee which will consider the subject said that planes and guns would afford the canal better protection.

Plants appear to wilt in dry weather because they give off more moisture than they receive from the soil.

Missouri and Idaho lead the United States in production of lead. Other important lead mines are located in Montana and Idaho.

Hal Kemp and His Orchestra to Be In Dixon March 14

Hal Kemp, genial southern bandleader, will bring his orchestra and entertainers to the Dixon Armory on March 14 through arrangements with Music Corporation of America.

Sharing honor with Kemp will be all the stars of his radio reviews and stage programs, including the Smoothies, Bob Allen, Jack Le Maire, Eddie Kusby.

Kemp and his premiere style orchestra has been a sensation from coast to coast. He added fresh laurels to his already impressive list of records when he broke Rudy Valle's mark at New York's Astor hotel, shattered Paul Whiteman's and Fred Warlock's joint record at Chicago's Drake hotel, and set up a new high for his nine weeks run at New York's exclusive Waldorf-Astoria. The Ritz-Carlton, Boston; Atlantic City's Steel Pier, and the New York's World's fair, as well as the Strand Theater, New York, were also sensational grosses.

Hal Kemp's versatile aggregation may well be classed among the top ranking, triple-threat musical groups in the country. Its radio fame has been achieved over a period of years on such famous programs as "Time to Shine," "Chesterfield," "Magic Carpet," "Penthouse Party," and others over all the networks.

Film fame came via a starring role in RKO's "Radio City Revels" last season, in addition to several musical shorts, while leadership in the personal appearance phase of modern showdom came as the result of Maestro Kemp's successful tours and hotel stands.

British Actress and Actor 'Tops' in Year's Awards

Hollywood, March 1.—(AP)—Clark Gable, wherever he may be, is Hollywood's "forgotten man" of the moment.

But for Gable, who sets feminine hearts fluttering whenever his handsome face and fine physique appear on a theatre screen, "Gone With the Wind" would have swept the field last night in the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences' eleventh annual selection of premier film accomplishments.

"GWTW" did all right, anyway. To the surprise of no one, it walked off with eight of 16 possible awards, including those for the best production, best actress, best supporting actress and best director.

But "Gone With the Wind" were the hopes of many another producer, actress, director and photographer for fleeting fame and the cheers of an ermine, evening-coated audience of filmdom's famous, which crowded the banquet room of the Ambassador hotel for the season's swankiest affair.

An American flag flies continuously over the grave of Francis Scott Key in Maryland. He was the composer of the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

Johnson will give the lesson on "Stewardship." James Harris will sing.

La Follette Brothers May Share in Estate

Labanon, Ind., Mar. 1.—(AP)—U. S. Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin and his brother, Philip LaFollette, former Wisconsin governor, may share in the $20,000 estate of Robert J. Ferguson, a Boone county farmer, under a petition filed in Circuit court Thursday.

Ferguson died last September. No immediate relatives survived. A petition filed by Mrs. Rosa Roberts alleged that she, the LaFollette brothers and four other persons were entitled to the estate as second cousins of Ferguson on the paternal line.

Claim to the estate also has been filed by C. C. LaFollette of Thorntown, Ind., and Grant A. LaFollette, 76, of LaFollette, Tenn., the latter contending he is

Trade Barriers Unhealthy Says Dwight H. Green

Monmouth, Ill., March 1.—"Trade barriers between states resulting from misconceptions of the New Deal administration are becoming an increasing factor in the dis-location of employment in this country and particularly in Illinois," Dwight H. Green, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, told a meeting of Republicans held in the courthouse here last night. During the afternoon there was a reception in honor of Green in the Custer hotel at Galesburg where he met Republicans from Knox and surrounding counties as well as the delegates of the state convention of the John Ericsson Republican League, at which he was a dinner guest.

"One of the largest industries in Illinois is the railroads. Chicago is the greatest railroad terminal in the world. In neighboring Galesburg, at Rock Island, Carbondale, Decatur and a dozen other cities we have huge railroad shops and freight centers. Yet, because of the pressure of eastern industrial interests and western shipping interests, the railroads are unable to transport freight from Detroit to California at a cost comparable with transporting the same freight to New York and then by boat through the Panama Canal.

"Illinois railroads and railroad men are suffering just as the Illinois coal industry has suffered from the misdirected efforts of the New Deal. A subversive administration at Springfield has permitted New Deal legislation in opposition to the best interests of our people. It is up to the elected representatives of the people in Congress and at Springfield to safeguard the rights of our citizens.

"The railroads long ago worked out equitable arrangements for arbitrating labor disputes and for occupational compensations and pensions. Had the New Deal used the railroads as the pattern for its labor program and pension system, instead of the socialistic theories of college professors, today the United States would have sound social security and little labor difficulties."

TROOP 89 REORGANIZED

Boy Scout officials met Thursday eve at the First Presbyterian church with members of the committee from the Dixon Lions club, of which Harry Bates is chairman, to organize the troop committee. A. A. Stocker of Rockford, Scout executive of the Blackhawk area; Claude Currens, district organizer; F. A. Hanson, Lee county district chairman, with Enos Keithley, commissioner, met the committee. Representing the Lions club were General Chairman Harry Bates, J. L. Glassburn, Homer Millard, Hal Mateer, Elden Myers, John Roe and M. H. Kaiserman.

Chairman Bates assured the Scout officials that the Dixon Lions were wholeheartedly supporting the entire Scouting program in Dixon, while sponsoring Troop 89, which is to be an example for other troops and dens. It was also suggested that several other troops and dens which have been permitted to disband, be reorganized and become active in the Scout program.

Troop 88, which had been an "orphan" troop for a few weeks, due to the lack of a sponsor, met with their Scoutmaster Kenneth Abbott in the parlors of the Presbyterian church which will be the temporary quarters for the troop. The troop members discussed a contemplated program of activities which is to be undertaken under the sponsorship of the Lions club, which includes a feature activity which is to be announced within a few days.

Garner Is Left As Standout In Preference Vote

Washington, March 1.—(AP)—The laggardly filing of other Democratic candidates for President has helped to put Vice President Garner in the position of a sore thumb which may get hurt before the convention scramble ends.

Thus far, he is the only candidate listed in competition with President Roosevelt in any of the preferential primaries. A few of his backers are beginning to wonder whether the reaction will work for or against the vice-president.

They are somewhat fearful that the Garner name will become so closely identified with the Roosevelt opposition as not only to lessen the possibilities of getting presidential backing for his candidacy but also to help promote a bitterness inside the party which they are anxious to avoid.

Already the stress is being laid on the vast amount of work which Garner did to help get new deal legislation enacted. His arguments with the President are being given less attention.

But some of the disagreements between the President and vice-president have been edged with bitterness. In spite of the personal friendship between them, it is none too certain that the President would support Garner.

This is some of the background which lies behind the slowness of Garner's friends to file his name in Ohio. For the sake of the party and its chances of winning the election, they want to help keep the primary jousting on as friendly a basis as possible.
